

Heaven Hill Trybox Series Corn

62.5%

New make from the same mashbill as Evan Williams, bottled "straight from the still." Much higher proof than the others, but not noticeably hotter in the nose; that's light corn and grass, with a bit of minty spice. Hotter in the mouth, but quite pleasant and evolving; fresh mint gives way to light corn, then a slightly oily slip to brisk sweetness...and you realize you didn't notice the serious overproof. A well-behaved white dog.
