

Southern Comfort Bold
Black Cherry

35%

A medicinal cherry smell, like cough syrup and cherry PEZ, edged with a nutty hint of almonds. Medium-bodied; a slow-flow on the tongue. The cherry doesn't taste real (like Red Stag's does), and the SoCo sweetness doesn't help that. There is a pickup at the end, as the spirit seems to evaporate off the tongue. I can't help thinking that this should have been a slam-dunk...but they missed.
