

Adelphi (distilled at Longmorn) 20 year old 1992

55.1%

With Longmorn, you are always looking for a dense, sweet fruitiness. This doesn't disappoint on the nose, where there's moist compacted fruitcake with marzipan, Brazil nut, glacé cherry, a hint of tobacco, then hard toffee. The palate is soft to start but then an overly firm grip and slightly bitter edges come through. Though water improves it, the oak is slightly too dominant. That said, the nose is superb. £80

—Vol. 22, #1

