

George Dickel Rye

45%

A 5 year old rye whisky made in Lawrenceburg, Ind. (with the signature LDI 95% rye mashbill) that went through the Lincoln County Process after aging. A somewhat anemic nose, lightly grassy; sweet with edges of mint, vanilla, and oatmeal. The mouth is more rewarding; the rye's bitter spice and sweet mint emerge to flame across the tongue. It's very easy to drink, with a flare of oily mint intensity at the finish. Good, but you expect more from Dickel.
