

Wemyss Malts Ginger
Spice (distilled at Glenrothes) 1988

46%

Glenrothes always has a spicy element, but this example ups the ante considerably and, true to the label, it's fresh-cut ginger root alongside galangal and coriander, a hint of green grass, and even a little bite of jelly babies, alongside black currant leaf. Rothes' normally languid air is here frothily exuberant, with just sufficient vanilla thickness to offer a brake. Uplifting and good. £107

—Vol. 22, #3

