

Wemyss Malts
Chocolate Honeycomb
(distilled at Bunnahabhain) 2001
46%

Rich and malty and, though it'll look like I'm just reading the label, there is chocolate here: chocolate brownie mix to be precise, with a raspberry sitting on top. Bold and rich, with a nutty underpinning. Water makes it very fresh and a little more hay-like. The palate is sweet and liquorous, with nougat, macadamia, and a chewy mid-palate where that chocolate dribbles and melts. Neat, it is slightly bitter; less so with water.

Very sound. £53

—Vol. 22, #3

