

Sir Edward's Blended Whisky

40%

From the perfumed nose to the sweet and short finish, this blend doesn't really put a foot wrong, but it's shy and unadventurous. Clearly well made, well balanced, and quite acceptable, it has a perfumed black currant sherbet nose, some slight but enjoyable blueberry, grape, and prune notes and a soft sweet conclusion. On its own, all fine: but it gets lost when in company.

—Vol. 22, #3

