

Palmetto Moonshine
Corn Whiskey

52.5%

Mason jar packaging makes for an awkward pour; had to be said.

Nose is hot, with a fruity sweetness and fainter notes of grassy green corn, flowers, and rock. Clean and sweet, with more corn character here, along with other fresh grains. Not nasty, not bad, but seems to be mostly aimed as a base for Palmetto's apple pie and peach flavors.

Otherwise...it's sweet, corn-tinged vodka.
