

Catskill Fearless Wheat

Sharp nose of fresh, wet grain, hot honey, a little butterscotch, crushed boxwood leaves, and a touch of linseed; an herbal smell.

Mouth is roundly sweet, with honey and pie crust notes that meet the oak and pretty it up.

There's mint here, which surprised me; maybe from the wood? This one's dainty, delicate, and maybe a bit too sweet, but it maintains an edge of oak that keeps it serious.

Price is per 375 ml.
