

Cabin Fever

40%

Real maple syrup has an earthy, woody aroma; maple flavoring has strong overtones of coconut, and so does Cabin Fever. The nose evokes dried, sweetened baking coconut, while the sweet and spicy palate is a hot, liquid, coconut macaroon. Peppery notes suggest that it's whisky, but without any traces of barrel aging that's as close as you get. Best part? The long, spicy finish with its confection-sweet coconut.
