Whisky
🗙 Elijah Craig 23 year old 🗴 (Barrel No. 26)
45% Yes, 23 years is a long time to age bourbon. And yes, there's plenty of oak influence. But there's an underlying sweetness that balances the oak spice (with this particular cask; others may vary).
Chewy in texture, with toffee, dates, fig cake (with nuts), barrel char, tobacco, leather, and a dusting of cocoa.
—Vol. 23, #4
×××××