

The Balvenie DCS
Compendium 1st
Chapter 1968 46 year
old (Cask# 7293)

45.9%

The oldest of the set shows a shift into a sense of calm and quietude. The dried blossoms of youth are there, still with a little color to them, while a curl of smoke also comes through. Then, out of nowhere, a sudden eruption of tropical fruits, a flaring in the dying light. There's no oakiness, just a distillery, framed, gently receding. A remarkable dram. It's almost shameful to discuss cost!

£19,000

—Vol. 25, #1

