

New Holland Cask & Smoke Whiskey

45%

Peat-smoked American malt whiskey. Nose isn't so much peaty-smoky as it is sweet and husky; like cocoa bean mulch that's been rained on a few times. The smoke's there on the tongue, though, beautifully restrained, light and sweet. For small-barrel whiskey, this is surprisingly subtle, and the dance of the smoke is enticing. The oak's a bit sharp though, and clamps on the finish; points off there. Promising.
