

Tweeddale Last Centennial

52.2%

A limited edition cask strength blend of four single casks by Alasdair Day released to mark 100 years since the last entry in their blender's historic cellar book. The nose has warm caramel, whole orange, and a dry, grassy, and gristy note. Rich orange envelops the mouth with golden caramel, shortbread, and underlying spices of ginger and pepper. Takes water well and retains its character; lots to like here.
