

Bladnoch Adela 15 year old

46.7%

Samsara's (reviewed winter 2016) younger sibling Adela presents an altogether different profile, having been matured in oloroso casks.
Like Samsara, it has not been chill filtered. The nose is nutty, with quite dry sherry notes and prickly spice. Finally, fragrant toffee emerges. Very supple in the mouth, where the sherry becomes sweeter, along with black currants, licorice, and then black pepper.
The finish is medium in length, dry, and peppery.
