

Reservoir Bourbon

50%

Aromas hint at a bitterly astringent, almost burnt sugar smell, like green walnut hulls. While the body is full and rich, it's simply too hot and young to make for pleasant drinking. The finish is long and spicy, but needs more time to mellow.

—Vol. 26, #2

