10 year old Highland
(Distilled in 2008)

40%

Mineral and saline peat and brine, along with a slight rubberiness, are balanced by white pepper, orange marmalade, lemon, herbs, and grilled apples on the nose. The drying and smoky palate is light-bodied, but with generous peat, lemon, and herb flavors, finishing with oak, smoke, and more lemon.

If you're looking for a peated single malt that's more gentle in body, try this one. (Trader Joe's)
