

Gordon & MacPhail
(distilled at Longmorn)

15 year old, 1989 vintage, 46%

A nicely clean Longmorn, expressing floral notes (especially violets) and bright fruit (lemon, lime, cantelope, plums), supported interwoven notes of honey, rich malt, bread pudding, dates and vanilla. The classic Longmorn viscosity is there, and this thickness is tamed by a very pleasing spicy, dry oak finish, with a hint of salt. I could drink this stuff anytime. G&M's move to 46% has certainly benefited this whisky. (Bottled exclusively for Binny's Beverage Depot.)
