

Teerenpeli Kaski

43%

The nose is lavish, with dried orange peel, raisins, plum, gingersnaps, aniseed, and menthol. It's a thick, malty, statement whisky, rich with raisin, prune juice, heather honey, fig, and walnut, and laced with aniseed and clove. Pleasantly reminiscent of childhood cough medicine, there are long, sweet, syrupy prune notes at the end. It feels like it must be doing you some good. (3,000 bottles)

—Vol. 28, #2

