

Glen Scotia 2003
Campbeltown Malts
Festival Rum Cask
Finished (2019 Release)

51.3%

The nose has sweet smoke and more prominent aromas of banana, vanilla, guava, papaya, jasmine, hibiscus, and citrus oil, with some salinity and chalky minerality. The palate is consistent: intense tropical fruit—guava, mango, coconut—plus hazelnut, smoked almonds, milk chocolate, and salty kelp. It finishes with smoked nuts, toasted tobacco, chalky minerality, dry oak, and persistent fruitiness.

Lots to unpack here, and it develops beautifully with water—take your time.

—Vol. 28, #3

