

Sea Fog 7 year old
45%

This doles out big pot still character from the start and feels like it's taking a deep cut into the distillate, lending a bold and somewhat rustic note that suggests rum agricole. The nose has smoky and vegetal notes that border on rubber tire, adding a fair amount of intrigue to the nutty malt lurking just below. Generous in body, with sweet vanilla and a fudge-like finish. (1,350 bottles)

—Vol. 29, #4

