The sweet vanilla, almond, and coconut aromas don't prepare you for the chocolaty richness of the palate, but don't stress; just enjoy the journey. It starts with Almond Joy, crème brûlée with fresh blackberries, nougat, and marzipan, then progresses to cacao nibs, dried cranberries and cherries, and a striking amaretto flavor. Everything wraps up neatly—and lengthily—with cocoa powder, black pepper, mocha, and roasted walnuts. Don't be shy about watering generously; this can quite a bit.
