

GlenDronach Port Wood

46%

The rose-gold tint of this natural-color whisky serves as a visual hint of its heavy port cask influence.

Dominated on the nose by butterscotch and caramelized sugar, maple syrup, pralines, candied pecans, dates, and syrupy stewed plums. A silky but weighty palate revels in raspberry jam, raisin bread, semi-sweet chocolate, toasted nuts, dark sea-salt caramel, and gentle spice, concluding with a balanced finish of raspberry-dark chocolate squares, tobacco, and ginger.

—Vol. 30, #2

