

Ardmore Traditional Cask

46%

A distillery bottling of Ardmore finally comes to the U.S. This one is non-chill filtered and finished in a "Quarter Cask," similar to Laphroaig Quarter Cask (same owners). Ardmore remains one of the few Speyside whiskies made with peat-smoked malt. Chewy, almost oily-textured, with sweet notes of toffee and caramel up front, followed by emerging damp, earthy peat and bourbon-like notes. The oaky, resinous bourbon lingers through the finish. The bourbon oak intensity dominates to a degree, disrupting the harmony of the remaining flavors.

A whisky of great potential, but still waiting to achieve some of it.

—Vol. 17, #3

