

Tullibardine

1988 vintage, 46%

Similar in personality to its younger standard 1993 and 1992 vintages -- soft and mellow, with fresh barley, vanilla cream puff, cut grass and hay, cookie dough, and a dusting of pencil shavings.

The extra aging shows on the whisky's dried spice and polished oak finish. More sophisticated than its younger siblings, although the younger vintages are more drinkable.

—Vol. 17, #4

