This is a bit shy on the nose at first, yielding a mild mustiness that calls to mind meandering up and down the aisles of an antique shop. After spending more time with it, fruit comes forward: strawberry syrup, cherry-dipped soft serve, tart ripe raspberries, and orange peel. Light fruit leads the palate, with raspberry jam and dark chocolate-covered bing cherries complemented by Big Red gum. The finish trails off to bitter espresso. (48,000 bottles) Best Values
